

The Nuclear Bible: Obama's Super Bowl Party

Intro: As is he did in 2009 and 2010, Barack Hussein Obama will host a Super Bowl Party for Super Bowl XLV, which will be played at Cowboy Stadium in Arlington (Dallas), Texas, on February 6, 2011. Along with members from his Cabinet, Senators, Congressman, and a host of other people, Obama will be allegedly be watching the game. Should a nuclear attack occur at the Super Bowl, Obama and his "A TEAM" will already be in place to handle the crisis. Those surrounding Obama are from every ethnic origin and background, and will flank Obama in this time of peril, thus giving America and the World the illusion that Obama speaks for the American people and that he represents all races, nationalities, and religions. If Obama's 2010 Super Bowl Party is any indication, his team will consist of every Cabinet member relative to a nuclear attack, thus leading to the conclusion that the nuclear detonation was a premeditated act. Most importantly, Obama WILL likely stage a military coup in the aftermath, in that he will suspend the rule of law, and therefore have to answer to no one.

A Few Questions:

- Why would the U.S. President feel the need to assemble a massive posse on Sunday, let alone on the Super Bowl, America's biggest party day?
- Who will be in attendance for Obama's 2011 Super Bowl Party?
- What exactly is going to happen at the Super Bowl?

Conclusion: It appears that Obama & Co. will all be positioned for the nuclear crisis and the eventual military coup of America. Obama is likely to suspend the rule of law, and declare himself dictator. More than half of America will be intoxicated, and it is likely that there will be mad chaos and anarchy as people think that the end of the World is approaching. At this key time, SWAT teams, DHS personal and foreign troops will make gun sweeps across the nation. Americans who don't go along with the new fascist program will likely be shot on site or taken to the FEMA concentration camps for detainment and eventual extermination.
